END OF STRUGGLE NOT YET IN SIGHT

Russians Will Hold Fort Until Death-- Heavy Cannonading Heard.

Tokio, Dec. 3.—The first armistice between the combatants at Port Arthur was declared Friday for the purpose of burying the dead. It lasted six hours.

Have Not Relaxed Activity.
Tokio, Dec. 3.—Advises received from the vicinity of Port Arthur show that the Japanese have not relaxed their activity with the capture of "203 meter hill." They are now placing big guns in position on the hill and places for twenty of them have been constructed.

Captured Jag Guns.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 3.—A special dispatch received here says: "It is reported that General Ito-nenkampff has captured several Japanese guns and a convoy with 500 rifles, but that a force of forty thousand, consisting of Chinese bandits and a reserve of eight thousand Japanese, has started to turn Ito-nenkampff's flank."

They Fight to the Last.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 3.—With the confirmation of the news that the Japanese have occupied "203 meter hill," and the report that the Russians unsuccessfully attempted its recapture, officials at the war office are beginning to prepare themselves for the inevitable. Golden Hill and Liad Hill are higher and dominate 203 meter hill, but officials say that if the Japanese succeed in mounting heavy guns upon the latter it probably will be only a question of days or weeks before the fortress falls.

Still, there is not the slightest idea among St. Petersburg's friends that he will surrender, even if he should be ordered to do so. It is believed that he will make good his threat to hold out to the last man and last cartridge. The ships in the harbor are in no condition to attempt to break through the investing squadron. The guns of the warships were long ago landed, and the marines and sailors have been participating in the land defense. Some of the ships have also been injured by shells. If the fortress falls it is understood that they will be taken outside and sunk in deep water in order to prevent a possibility of their ever being of service to the enemy.

May Make Sortie.
Tokio, Dec. 3.—The general impression here is that the Port Arthur fleet will attempt to make a sortie when the harbor becomes untenable, or when the Russian plan for escape matures.

Te Dispatch Provisions.
Antwerp, Dec. 3.—It is reported the Russians are again seeking steamers for the dispatch of provisions and ammunition to Vladivostok.

Outpost Fighting Continuously.
Mukden, Dec. 3.—It is now believed that general hostilities will not be resumed during the winter. Outpost fighting is continuous.

Cannonading Heard.
Mukden, Dec. 3.—From 2:30 yesterday afternoon until late last night sounds of rapid cannonading have been heard on the Russian southwest front, such as has not been experienced here for a long time.

INJUNCTION TO KEEP WIFE FROM TALKING

Chicago, Dec. 3.—An injunction to prevent his wife from talking is asked in the circuit court by Thomas P. Wood, a carpenter. In defending his own name from an alleged scandal, Wood declares he is also acting for the good of a Mrs. Margaret Watson. He fears, he says, his wife will tell things about him to members of secret societies to which they belong. He also seeks to stop the oral interviews of his wife in Newtonville, Ohio, Muncie, Ind. In her over-heated imagination," Wood declares, his wife "has conjured certain visionary and absurd scandals." The complainant separated from his wife four years ago when, he says, she became possessed of "certain religious delusions and theological vagaries."

In a letter submitted to the court today, Mrs. Wood threatens her husband with exposure unless he complies with certain demands as to changing his place of residence.

CONGRESS WILL MEET MONDAY NEXT

Only Routine Business Will be Transacted.

The President's Message Not Likely to Be Read Until Tuesday Morning.

NO EXTRA SESSION LIKELY

Washington, Dec. 3.—On the stroke of 12 Monday, the second session of the fifty-eighth congress will be called to order by President Pro Tem Frye in the senate and by Speaker Cannon in the house.

When the gavel of the presiding officers summons the senators and representatives to duty nearly every member will be in his seat, but only routine business will be transacted.

The chaplains will pray, the rolls will be called, the regular resolutions of notification will be passed, committees to inform the president will be appointed and adjournment will follow out of respect for the deceased members. The president's message generally is received and read the first day, but the senate is punctilious in certain matters and is almost sure to adjourn as a tribute of respect to the late Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, and the late Senator Quay of Pennsylvania.

The message, therefore, probably will not be read until Tuesday. It can be safely predicted that there will be no extra session and no tariff revision.

THE CAIRO GIRLS DISAPPOINTED US

Basket Ball Team Failed to Arrive.

Late Edition of the High School Paper is a Credit to Pupils.

OTHER LATE SCHOOL NEWS

A basketball game between the Paducah and Cairo High school teams was scheduled for this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, but on account of the failure of the Cairo team to come up, was not played.

The members of the High school team were at the depot this morning to meet the Cairo party which should have numbered about ten, but not one showed up. It is presumed that the inclement weather caused the failure of the Egyptian team to put in attendance and it was a great disappointment to the local team.

The Paducah High school team defeated the Cairo school team several weeks ago, and immediately arranged a return date for Paducah, the Cairo girls wanting revenge. The Paducah team, however, was not asleep and had been practicing steadily for the game, not intending that the visitors take away the laurels won in the Egyptian city.

Instead of the regular game for which 25 cents admission would have been charged, the High school team arranged an exhibition game for this afternoon and charged 10 cents admission. The girls have an excellent team and are not afraid of defeat from any other team in this end of the state.

The current issue of the Ishkodah, the High school paper, is a credit to the pupils and teachers of the school. It contains two full-page half-tones of the football and basketball teams. No expense is spared in making the paper as attractive as possible, and besides being printed on the best paper and gotten up in the most attractive style possible, the paper carries two or three pages of advertising matter which pays a neat little sum which aids defraying the expense of publication.

The spiral fire escape at the High school has aroused latent mechanical genius in several juveniles attending that school, and the imitation fire escape rigged up by one of the small pupils at the school for his amusement and the amusement of others, came near causing a serious accident.

The boys rigged up a post about eight feet high on an open lot in the south side and made it fast as possible. They tacked cross arms at regular intervals from top to bottom and then procured some old corrugated tin, the only tin they could procure, which had been torn off a building, and tacked it on the arms. They rigged up something that on close examination might be taken for an imitation of the High school escape, but the first trial of the youngsters to go down it was not altogether a success.

The boys made a crude ladder and mounted the top of the miniature escape. The ladder was removed and the little fellow then sat down with the expectation of getting a nice rotary slide to the bottom, but was greatly surprised.

With a crackling sound, foretelling the giving away of the tin and post, the post began to sway, but the tin gave away first. The little fellow tumbled straight to the bottom of the apparatus and was picked out of a mass of tin, his clothes torn and his body scratched in more than a dozen places.

NATIVE OF EAST.

Young Man Died This Afternoon on South Fourth Street.

Bert J. Harrington, aged about 24, a saw-filer at Ferguson-Palmer's saw-mill, died this afternoon at his home, 1304 South Fourth street from typhoid fever after a several days' illness. He had been here a year or more, and lived in New York state. The remains will be shipped tonight to Salamanca, New York, for burial. He leaves a wife here.

THE LONG DROUTH BROKEN AT LAST

Rain and Cooler Weather Strike Paducah.

River Men Are Encouraged at the Outlook—The Rain is General.

COLDER WEATHER EXPECTED

The cold wave is here.

So is the rain. A light drizzle began about 4 o'clock this morning, and it later became quite a shower, then the weather cleared somewhat and subsequently the rain began again.

All day, however, the temperature has been gradually becoming cooler, and the cold wave is expected to be in full force by tonight or in the morning. The rainfall has been very light, however, it probably did not amount to over a fraction of an inch, but it was a boon to all, especially the river men, who are hopeful of more.

"What do you think of it, captain," some one asked Captain Joe Fowler today.

"Well, pretty good sign," returned the captain. "This is what they call the 'Indian sign.'"

"Indian sign, now's that?" he was asked.

"Well, when it's cloudy all 'round and raining like h— in the middle, that's the Indian sign of rain," grimly smiled the captain as he passed on into the boat store.

The river reports from above are also encouraging, and show slight rises in nearly all the rivers, but even when a big rise comes it will require several days for it to be felt.

The long drouth has been broken, however, which is cheerful news for all. It has been depressing on all classes, because the dullness that has prevailed because the suspension of navigation is felt directly or indirectly in all lines of business, and by all people.

Reports indicate that the rain is general throughout Kentucky, if not the country. Here it has not interfered with the Saturday crowds because every one is so glad to see it.

It is likely that now, for a season, at least, overcoat and rain coats, rubbers, heavy clothing and umbrellas will have their long deferred inning.

Captain Fowler, in talking of the drouth apparently broken, said today that it was nothing to compare to the drouth of 1854.

"I can remember it very well," he declared. "There wasn't anything, hardly, raised that year, and everything was very high. We had no railroads in those days to bring things in to us from a distance, as we can do today, and the result was everything was very high."

"It happened that I got married in January of the following year, just in time to catch the fancy prices on everything. The drouth began early the summer before and lasted far into the fall and winter. Everything raised, or started, burned up, so there was soon a shortage. The present drouth has been nothing to that one. We raised fairly good crops this year. In '54 we raised practically nothing."

"I remember my wife and I went to house keeping two months after we were married and the first barrel of flour I bought cost me $13, which was about all the money I made in a whole month, and made flour a costly luxury."

GROSS FRAUDS ARE SHOWN AT DENVER

Supreme Court Counting the Ballots.

Democratic Returns Padded and Republicans Votes Were Not Counted.

DEMOCRATS WERE ROUNDED OVER

Denver, Col., Dec. 3.—Hearing in the contempt cases growing out of the alleged violations of injunction writs issued previous to the recent election was resumed in the supreme court yesterday.

The substance of charges against the men is that they conspired to steal the election in the precinct in which they served by stuffing the ballot box; that they drove out the Republican election officers, refused to appoint a Republican clerk of election and interfered with supreme court watchers.

Chief Justice Gubhard ordered the ballot box brought into court and opened. The clerk of the court counted 325 ballots. The returns made by the election officials and certified by the election commission in the official canvass was 372.

It is claimed that a number of ballots placed in the box were not those of legal voters, and the court appointed two handwriting experts to examine the ballots. They will determine which, if any, are fraudulent and will report tomorrow.

It was also developed during the counting of the ballots that there was a discrepancy between the number of straight Republican votes returned by the election officials and the number disclosed when the box was opened today. The court found 116 of this description, whereas the returns showed 79.

Bound Democrats Over.

Denver, Col., Dec. 3.—After arguments in the case against Frank J. Kratke, city license inspector, and other Democratic officers in precinct eight, ward five, at the late election charged with conspiracy to prevent Republicans from voting, Federal Commissioner Capron bound the defendants over to appear before the federal grand jury.

In rendering his decision Capron said:

"Considering the case as it stands and reviewing all incidents that occurred in the polling places, I believe the allegations made in this case are proven true."

Inter-city trade has suffered some on account of the unseasonable weather and the indications are that as soon as the weather changes trade will be very brisk.

Theatrical Notes

NEXT WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS
Monday night—Viola Allen.
Tuesday night—"Miss Bob White."
Thursday night—"The First Lady."
Friday night—"Babes in Toyland."
Saturday night—"The Midnight Express."

Next week will be a great week for The Kentucky. Never before have so many high-class attractions come to Paducah in one week as come next week and theatergoers will have a feast of good things. With Miss Viola Allen, "Miss Bob White," "The Babes in Toyland," Mr. English is offering his patrons some of the best attractions on the road.

What should prove a most delightful entertainment is the appearance Monday night of Viola Allen in "The Winter's Tale." Miss Allen has enjoyed an extraordinary personal success and an enormous prosperity since becoming a star. Her productions and companies have been of the very best quality, and her good fortune in the selection of plays has been one of the wonders of the time. During the past six seasons she has produced six plays, three modern and two classic dramas. The first of these were "The Christian," "In the Palace of the King," in which Paducah saw her two years ago, and "The Eternal City," and the latter Shakespeare's comedies, "Twelfth Night" and "The Winter's Tale." That Miss Allen has been able to popularize the classics in the way she has, speaks volumes for her sterling worth as an actress, since it has been only upon rare occasions that the public has taken an interest in the classics at all commensurate with their worth.

Her engagement in Paducah will be one of the events of this season.

Mae Phelps, Prima Donna, with the Nixon & Zimmerman Opera Company, Presenting Miss Bob White.

When here two years ago she made a very favorable impression and local theatergoers are anxious to see her in a Shakespearean production and there fore she should be greeted by a good house Monday evening.

The unique sensation of witnessing the tremendous crash between two monster locomotives is similar to the effect produced by the fifty-foot train of engine and cars which plays a very important part in "The Midnight Express," coming to the Kentucky Saturday.

"Miss Bob White," with a large cast of orchestra, will be at The Kentucky Tuesday night. The cast contains many well known names, chief among them are Frank Deshon, J. L. McClure, Edward Baker, Donald Archer, Rye V. Molshaw, Joseph Leighton, Edward Tannochill, Male Phelps, Alice Craft Bonson, Zillah Harris, Harriot Trainor, Georgia Campbell, Susie Talmage and it is one of the few musical attractions that attracts true lovers of comic opera for the reason that it has a charming story complete and is not a succession of interpolations and specialties for this reason it appeals to lovers of genuine comic opera. It has many pretty airs. Its comedy is unusually strong and from the time the comedians are on the stage their efforts are conducive of laughter and applause. This is the fifth year for "Miss Bob White," but its popularity is still just as great as ever and the business that it does everywhere indicates that intrinsic merit made its popularity lasting.

Commenting on "Babes in Toyland," which will be here Friday night, the Seranton Truth says in part:

"No more dainty or delightful entertainment has been seen at the Lyceum for many a long day than the 'Babes in Toyland,' which was given before large audiences yesterday afternoon and last night.

"The book, done by Glen McDonough, was inspired by the nursery rhymes, so dear to the hearts of everybody, and the music was contributed by the capable Victor Herbert, who has done the best work of a career that has been heretofore not lacking in brilliancy.

"The company was one of real merit and included 'Little Chip'."

MARY MARBLE.
"Babes in Toyland."

Mary Marble and a number of others almost equally clever. The staging and costuming were in themselves a distinct and pleasing feature of the performance."

New Castle, Ind., July 23, 1903.

Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.

Gentlemen:—Last summer I was all run down from the ravages of asthma. My digestion was just about as bad as it could be, to digest at all, and in fact I was in such a condition that I was compelled to secure leave of absence from duty for two months, and "doctor up" and rest for a while. One of our passenger conductors spoke in glowing terms to me of your Syrup Pepsin. More to satisfy my folks than through any faith in the medicine, I agreed to try it.

I secured three bottles and took it according to directions faithfully. The result amazed me, as well as my local physician who seemingly had been unable to afford me any relief from the bloating after meals, terrible taste in my mouth almost constantly, and constant constipation. In ten days time I began to eat food that I had been "scared of" for ten months; the bloating and labored breathing after meals began to subside and my sleep began to benefit me. I kept right on with the Pepsin and in six weeks time I ate whatever I craved and when I felt like it.

I keep a bottle in my house constantly and whenever I need it I take it, and I find prompt relief from the malindies it is made to cure.

Any letters of inquiry from sufferers from indigestion or bowel trouble will be cheerfully and promptly answered. Yours very truly,

The Week In Society.

DECEMBER.
December!—Smiling,
We yield to thee;
With hours beguiling
Thy away shall be

Complete. Come, whiten
Thy fir-trimmed ways!
With sleigh-bells brighten
Thy frost-touched days.

May all thy mornings
With brightness break;
With glad adornings
Thy shadows make.

Here's ruddy embers,
At close of day,
Here's blithe December
To make us gay.

—TOM MASON.

The Play's the Thing.

Society interest for the coming week centers in the pretty military opera, "The First Lieutenant," to be given at the Kentucky on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Home of the Friendless. Some of the finest musical and dramatic talent in the city will appear that night and add inspiration to the opera's catchy tunes and clever scenes.

The opera is distinctly a modern one, glow with patriotism. The time is the Spanish-American war, and Richmond, Va., and Tampa, Fla., are the setting. The "first families of Virginia, sub." Chicago newspaper correspondents, "Hough Riders," and Uncle Sam's navy meet in delightful mingling, while Spanish scarves and dark-browed dons add a vivid touch of color. All these and more are cleverly cast and the whole makes an evening of keen pleasure and interest.

Several box parties are being arranged for the event and a representative and appreciative audience will greet the raising of the curtain on Thursday night.

A December Wedding.

The wedding bans of Miss Katherine M. Holliday and Mr. Ivo Pettit will be published Sunday at 10 o'clock mass at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The marriage will take place on December 20th at 3:30 p. m., at the parsonage of the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. Rev. Father H. W. Jansen will perform the ceremony. The attendants will be Miss Oranthe Thurman and Mr. George Holliday. The bride will wear embroidered French net over white tulle and will carry lilies of the valley. Miss Thurman will wear white mull over silk.

No invitations will be sent in the city, only relatives and a few intimate friends will witness the ceremony.

Miss Holliday is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holliday, of South Sixth street. She is pretty and attractive and is a graduate of the 1904 class of the Paducah High school. Mr. Pettit is a popular young man, connected with the Southern Express company as cashier. Both are young people with a large circle of friends.

After a bridal tour the couple will reside for a time at the Holliday home on South Sixth street.

Magnate Club.

An especially pleasant meeting of the Magnate club was held on Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. George Flournoy as the hostess. The quotations were from Sidney Lanier and Miss Dow Husbands gave an interesting "Sketch of Sidney Lanier," of whom it has been beautifully said that "no assemblage of charity ever had to be thrown over anything in Lanier's life or art." The Outlook was represented by Miss Martha Leech with an account of "Queen Alexandra." "Unhappy Loves of Genius," was the subject handled by Mrs. Bransford Clarke. From Hubbard's Little Journeys, Mrs. W. A. Gardner told of a "Journey to the Home of Herbert Spencer." Miss Helen Lowry on "The North American Review" gave a "Criticism of Watts, the Artist." Mrs. Robert H. Phillips told very delightfully a story from Harper's Magazine. At the conclusion of the reports, a pretty luncheon was served in Mrs. Flournoy's usual attractive style.

The resignation of Mrs. Bransford Clarke, who leaves the first of the year for Memphis, was given and the club elected Miss Mary Lee Clarke to her place. Miss Frances Gould was chosen to fill the place of Mrs. W. W. Powell.

Pretty Birthday Party.

Little Miss Jeannette Rittoff celebrated her tenth birthday with a pretty party on Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Rittoff, of South Fourth street. The house was profusely decorated with palms, ferns and roses, and with the happy children, made a most attractive picture. About twenty-five young guests were present and the hours from 7 to 10 passed most happily. An elegant luncheon was served at 9:30 during which there was excellent music by a string band. Those present were:

Misses Henrietta Kahn, Stella Colin, Violet Michael, Jennie Michael, Annie Marks, Fannie Klein, Fannie Marcolfsky, Clara Mayers, Nellie Mayers, Iva Herry, Annie Simon, Ruth Sauerberg, Garnett Bailey, Emma Nickels, Lillie Helvig, Madge Greif, Johnnie Alexander, Osa Tyre, Lou Anna Giddan, Helen Hamilton, Josie Waynich, Lula Priant, Fanny Hittoff, Frances Brooks, Rena Brooks.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The Paducah chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met on Friday afternoon with Mrs. David G. Murrell. The members responded to roll-call with patriotic quotations. It was the regular December meeting with the annual election of officers as a chief feature. Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells was re-elected regent. Mrs. M. B. Nash was made vice-regent; Mrs. L. S. Dullos, registrar, Mrs. Fannie Alard, treasurer; Miss Emily Morrow, secretary; Mrs. D. G. Murrell, historian and Mrs. Sallie Morrow, chaplain. A special compliment was paid Miss Emily Morrow by re-electing her secretary for life. She has proved so capable that the two-year term limit for all officers of the local chapter was removed in her case.

Resolutions on the death of Mrs. Susan Bennett, of Smithland, a "real daughter" of the Revolution, and a member of the Paducah chapter, were adopted.

Mrs. Murrell served delightful refreshments during the afternoon.

The T. O. Club.

The T. O. club was elegantly entertained by Mrs. C. E. Gridley at her home on North Sixth street on Wednesday afternoon. The house was attractively decorated and cards were played. Mrs. Frank Wahl won the first prize, a solid silver ladle. Mrs. Gus Wright captured the second prize, cut glass pepper and salt. The consolation prize, a Japanese pin tray went to Mrs. Charles T. Graham. An elaborate course-luncheon was served after the game.

The guests were: Mesdames Gus Wright, Will Katterjohn, P. F. Lally, Charles T. Graham, Will Gilbert, Frank Wahl, J. W. Sherrill, Frank Binger, F. G. Merz, E. W. Bockman, Addie Hans, and Miss Mildred Maxwell.

West End Club.

The West End club was entertained by Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, of West Broadway, on Wednesday afternoon. It was the first meeting of the club for the season and was a most pleasant occasion. Beside the club members there were a few outside guests. The game prize was won by Mrs. Jno. W. Keller, and the lone hand prize went to Mrs. Armour Gardner. A delightful luncheon was served during the afternoon.

The guests were: Mrs. Harrison Watts, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mesdames Campbell Flournoy, John W. Keller, Armour Gardner, George Thompson, Milton Cape, C. H. Sherrill, L. A. Washington, Hildie Campbell, Henry Hughes, I. B. Wilcox, Thomas C. Leech; Misses Elise Wright, of Urbana, Ohio; Frances Gould, Cherle Norton, Martha Leech.

Entre Nous Club.

Miss Ethel Brooks entertained very charmingly in honor of the Entre Nous club at her home on North Seventh street on Thursday afternoon. Pretty souvenirs of the occasion were presented each guest. An elaborate luncheon was delightfully served during the afternoon. There were a number of guests besides the club members, and those present were: Mesdames Will Minich, Allen Ashcraft; Misses Elizabeth Sinnott, Hattie Hisey, Ethel Morrow, Ruste Jorgenson, Mabel McNichol, Marie Cobb, Elsie Bagby, Marjorie Bagby, Bruce Weaner, Fannie and Stella Coleman, Monima Hopkins, Lillie Mae Winstead, Reulah Rogers, Nell Holland, Helen Decker, Hobbie Lovell, May Owen, Retta Hatfield.

Sans Souci Club.

Mrs. Allen Ashcraft was hostess to the Sans Souci club on Wednesday afternoon, entertaining very delightfully at cards at her home on West Broadway. Only the club members were present and the prize was captured by Mrs. Will Gilbert. A pretty course-luncheon was served after the game.

The guests were: Mesdames John W. Scott, Harris Rankin, Will Gilbert; Misses Margaret Park, Clara Park, Carlino Sowell, Clara Thompson, Hattie Terrell, Minnie Terrell, Faith Langstaff, Ethel Morrow, Susanne Jorgenson, Myrtle Greer, Hattie Hisey, Florence Yeiser, Mabel Weaker.

Follencela Club.

Mrs. H. W. Hills entertained the Follencela club and guests most pleasantly on Tuesday afternoon at her home on South Sixth street. A conundrum guessing contest was an enjoyable feature. Mrs. Charles Ab-

The receiving party was quite a large one and the costumes were striking and beautiful.

TELL YOUR NEIGHBOR ABOUT WINE OF CARDUI

Hundreds of thousands of women suffer with irregular periods. Thousands suffer bearing down pains. Others are nervous and have all manner of pains in the abdomen, back, neck, limbs and head. WINE OF CARDUI CURES ALL THESE TROUBLES. There is hardly a home where some woman is not the victim of female weakness in some form. In your home there is a sufferer. There is another in your neighbor's home. Wine of Cardui will cure you, your sister, your mother or your daughter. It will cure your neighbor.

Over 1,500,000 suffering women have been cured by Wine of Cardui. Hundreds of thousands of well and happy women have their health because some interested friend took them a bottle of Wine of Cardui or told about what this wonderful woman's tonic would do.

Will you not follow Mrs. Smithers' example by giving Wine of Cardui a trial and then tell other sufferers of your cure?

1603 Maple St., Louisville, Ky., June 20, 1904.

I feel it my duty to thank you for the good Wine of Cardui has done for me. I was nervous, worn-out and on the verge of a general break-down. Providence directed one of your little books my way and I bought a bottle of Wine of Cardui. I had taken it but three days when a decided change was perceptible. What it did for me it will do for any other woman, and I never fail to take advantage of an opportunity to recommend it as a reliable and sure cure.

Wanted Better Sanitation.

People who have an interest in building up the city should urge the general council to pass Alderman Davis' ordinance compelling property owners to connect with the sanitary sewerage.

Memphis was a very unhealthy city for many years and had yellow fever, typhoid fever and malaria, and other ills, but since the sanitary sewerage was built it has become one of the cleanest and most healthy cities in the country, and the doctors ascribe it to the sewerage. Paducah's sewerage system is constructed on the same plan as that of Memphis and would result in like benefits if used by all in the sewer district.

Louisville attempted to vote over a million dollars at the last election for sewerage, although already well equipped with it, showing how essential sewerage is considered to the growth and health of a city. If sewerage is worth building it is worth using.

A gentleman who recently came here to live did not linger long. He said before he left that he wanted to take his family "where there were not so many doctors, palatial drug stores, and new graveyards necessary." He said they were bad signs, and he will doubtless tell the same thing some where else, which will not be much to the city's advantage.

The best thing to do is to clean up the city and perfect sanitation. It will result in benefits soon and easily perceived.

In this connection, part of a letter written to the Louisville Courier-Journal by a Paducahan signing himself "Jas. Soler," may be taken as an evidence of how people who have not lived here always, and are not accustomed to the filth, regard the uncleanliness. The letter was printed in the Courier-Journal's editorial column Thursday morning, and is given a publicity that will not help Paducah any. The only way to prevent the injury resulting from such a reputation, however, is to eliminate the cause.

The part of the letter referring to Paducah is: "I am a Cuban, of course you know it by now, and lived in this country for the past ten years having seen a great deal of north, south, east and west, and as far as my experience recollect, I have not got the pleasure of visiting a city large or small, as clean as Havana or Mantanzas in the island of Cuba. There is much talk about Santiago de Cuba, a city about the size of Paducah; now, Mr. Editor, would you think a moment when I tell you that I would forfeit my life in asserting that Santiago in Cuba, is much more cleaner than Paducah in the United States, Paducah having the advantage of discharging peace and prosperity, while Santiago was a mass of ruin and devastation! Mr. Editor, I know that these few lines will not be published by you, but I feel deep in my heart that the Christian Commandment "look upon others as you would to yourself," will be recalled to you. Yours respectfully,

JAS. SOLER.

This is indeed a severe indictment, and yet who can say it is not fully justified?

The reason Havana and other Cuban cities, only a few years ago the filthiest in the world, are now so healthy is that the United States government, while in charge of them, made them clean and sanitary. The United States government unfortunately has nothing to do with regulating sanitation in Paducah, and those who have seem to take no interest in it.

The people should awake to the importance of a clean, sanitary city, and demand it of the officials whose duty it is to provide it.

The Owensboro Inquirer, Independent, which was against President Roosevelt, says: "The attack of Gov. Vandaman on the president has set the people of the south to thinking and many of them have come to the conclusion that they have been wronged in listening to the viperous little stump speakers of the Vandaman class. They are beginning to think the matter over and are coming to the conclusion that Roosevelt is a better man by far than any of his traducers, a broad-minded, fearless, thorough-going American. They will soon be following him with enthusiasm, very much to their credit."

All spring, summer and fall the "city fathers" dawdled along without letting the contract for improving Second street. The people urged and advised and the press importuned and censured, but the pretty weather was allowed to drift away until now when bad weather is about to set in, and the Christmas trade is ready to begin. Second street is to be torn up and ruin the trade of the merchants along the block from Broadway to Kentucky. This should not be, and if there is no way to prevent it, it is very unfortunate for the merchants. It is about all that could be expected considering the way every other class of public business has been transacted in Paducah for several years past. It is only the administration's way of doing things.

Secretary of the National Democratic Committee Woodson has sufficiently recovered to break the painful silence and tell how it happened. He now says that "the nomination of Parker for the presidency was the most stupendous mistake the Democratic party has made since 1872." Yet one would not have judged it so to read Mr. Woodson's papers and see his absurdly extravagant predictions. The nomination of Parker was undoubtedly a mistake, but the nomination of anyone by the Democrats is a mistake so far as the voters of the United States are concerned.

Gov. Vandaman continues to get it in the neck on all sides. The Courier-Journal, usually for anything that insults the president, says: "The spontaneous protests against honoring Gov. Vandaman, of Mississippi, with the chairmanship of the National Cotton convention, which meets shortly at Shreveport, La., are timely. Thus to honor him would lend color to the assumption that he is representative of the southern people, instead of merely his own insularity."

It is denied that Democracy is dead. Perhaps it isn't, but it might as well be. The Democratic party, or some aggregation by that name, will probably have out tickets in presidential elections for many years to come, for to perpetuate the party means money to those who do it, although they may get no offices. So far as ever winning an election, however, the Democratic party is dead.

Even gentle, genial Ollie James is rubbing it in on Judge Parker. Here is what a Washington correspondent quotes him as saying: "I don't know whether the Roosevelt majority is sane or not, it is surely safe and appears to be irrevocably established."

CRIMINAL TERM BEGINS MONDAY

Many Cases on the Docket in Circuit Court.

Only a Few Orders Made Today—A Small Police Court Docket.

MRS. TORIAN'S WILL FILED

CIRCUIT COURT.

The November civil term of circuit court ended this morning and Monday the regular December criminal term will begin.

The November term of court should have ended last Saturday, but in order to finish the work of the present term and clear the docket of several minor cases, Judge Reed extended the term one week, bringing it right up to the criminal term.

Today's business in court amounted to but little.

A judgment for sale was filed in the case of O. D. Palmer against Gertrude Palmer.

All officials and the special judges in the several actions were given their allowances.

The case of J. W. Rignberger & Brother against the I. C., suit over the value of a lost car load of lumber, was by agreement docketed and dismissed.

In the case of Emma Perpoli, administrator, against the I. C., a judgment for Taylor & Lucas for $250 was filed. It seems that the I. C. settled with the plaintiff without the aid of the attorneys employed by the administrator and Taylor & Lucas had to file suit for their fees. They sued for $500 as a fee, but the court allowed them but half. The railroad compromised for $500 with the administrator.

The motions for new trials in the cases of W. J. Bug against E. D. Holt and Mary Coley against the I. C. railroad, were continued until next term.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Randolph, administrator of Hollice against the I. C., was continued until next term.

Alice George was granted a divorce from Steve George.

Ruth Loftis was granted a divorce from Clay Loftis.

ANOTHER DAMAGE SUIT.

Charles Foster has filed a suit against the city through Attorney Werten for $10,000 for working him on the streets to serve out a fine assessed in police court.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

John James Rolfe, a minister of Illinois, and Mattie A. Fryer, of Ephrason, have been licensed to wed. The marriage will be performed at Ephrason.

George E. Fortson, of Heath, age 22, and Eva Pitt, of the county, age 18, have been licensed to wed.

MRS. TORIAN'S WILL.

The will of the late Ruth T. Torian has been filed for probate in county court.

She leaves her husband, O. T. Torian, $5 and the remainder of her estate of every kind and description to her daughter, Polle T. Hubbard, and in event of the death of the daughter the estate is to go to Frank Lander and Mrs. Ellen Morrow.

The deceased makes provisions in the will for the expenditure of not more than $300 for monuments and burial of herself, husband and child.

Catarrh of the Head Which Affected Hearing Cured by Per-na.

Mr. J. Emile Tanguay, No. 322 John St., Quebec, is Secretary of the Jacques Curling Club of Quebec, one of the leading sporting clubs in the city. Its members are composed of young men of the best families. He writes:

"Last winter I caught a severe cold which developed into a severe case of catarrh of the head, affecting my hearing especially. My eyes ran, my system seemed to be generally clogged up. I was advised by a club friend to try Per-na, and did so at once. To my delight I found a change set in for the better within three days, and in eight days I was entirely well." J. Emile Tanguay.

Mr. Adolph Koehler, President of the North Side Turners' Club, writes from Clark and Island Aves., Chicago, Ill.: "It is with pleasure that I endorse Per-na as a first-class medicine especially for catarrhal affections of the throat and lungs. I have used it with much benefit and several of my friends have been cured of catarrh entirely where Per-na was used."—Adolph Koehler.

"Nothing Better Than Per-na for Catarrhal Troubles," Says Congressman C. P. Dorr.

C. P. Dorr, Hotel Johnson, Washington, D. C., Ex-Congressman from West Virginia, writes:

"I can cheerfully recommend Per-na to anyone who wants a safe and permanent cure for catarrh. For throat, lung and catarrhal trouble there is nothing better than Per-na."—C. P. Dorr.

Colds Lead to Chronic Catarrh

A common cold is acute catarrh, which quickly becomes chronic catarrh if allowed to remain.

Every cold snap leaves in its trail thousands of cases of catarrh, many of whom for want of an effective remedy, will suffer from this disease the rest of their lives.

Is there anything that can be done to prevent all this?

In the first place, Per-na used at the proper time will prevent taking cold. In the second place, Per-na will cure a cold in from two to five days.

Again, Per-na will cure catarrh quickly in the first stages, and finally Per-na will also cure chronic catarrh, if used properly and persistently.

Per-na kept in the house and properly used will therefore not only act as a safeguard against the ailments which result from sudden cold waves, but will also prove a sure remedy for this class of ailments.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Per-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Per-na can be purchased at any first-class drug store for $1.00 per bottle. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanatorium, Columbus, O. SUCCAS FOR 1905.

MUCH MONEY
Has Been Raised for the Bishop's Home.

An active canvass has already been begun by the members in charge of the fund for erecting a home for the Bishop of Kentucky, and a considerable amount has already been raised, says the Louisville Herald. How much has been subscribed has not been given out.

The standing committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Kentucky has sent out notices, through John J. Saunders, the secretary, to all the standing committees in the country. After a majority of these have signified their approval of the election of the Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Woodcock, of Detroit, it will be necessary to obtain the endorsement of a majority of the House of Bishops. It will not be known for several weeks where the consecration of the new bishop will take place, but it is probable that it will be in Detroit.

Mr. Gus Covington, of Mayfield, is in the city.

NO TIME SET

The K. I. T. Meeting Will Probably be Next Sunday.

Two Important Changes Are Proposed in the League Rules.

Nothing definite has been done in regard to a meeting of the K. I. T. league officials and stockholders, but it is stated today that the meeting will probably be held a week from tomorrow. Neither the time nor the place has been decided on definitely, but it is likely next Sunday, the 11th, will be the date, and Paducah will be the place.

There is at present, it is claimed, no one with authority to call a meeting, and the meeting will be held by mutual agreement.

The only meeting provided for any way soon is the regular meeting in January.

Several important questions are to be decided at this meeting. One of them is regarding percentage. It is likely that a new rule will be adopted which will give every city the benefit of its own baseball patronage, something not done heretofore in the K. I. T. league. Thus, when one club goes away from home it knows exactly how much it is going to get, instead of getting a percentage. Some of the K. I. T. clubs have gone around the circuit and made big money, but when they get home they take in very little and the visiting club gets hardly enough to pay hotel bills. If the new rule is adopted, which it is believed will be done, it will give every city all of the proceeds of its games except the regular amount guaranteed every club in every town while away from home.

It is also likely that the guarantee to be deposited at the beginning of the season will be $500, $200, the present amount, is not enough, and $500 will better guarantee the success of the league. It is hoped the coming season to have only clubs that can sustain themselves, and rules looking to this end will probably be adopted.

LIKE THE CAT

Constable Shelton's Certificate Came Back.

Taken Away Election Day Hat Did Not Prevent the Official's Voting.

Constable A. O. Shelton yesterday morning found his registration certificate which was stolen from the office of Dr. J. S. Troutman on election day, and does not know whether the certificate was taken as a joke or to prevent his voting.

Constable Shelton left his certificate in the office of Dr. Troutman for safe keeping, thinking he might lose it if he carried it about with his other papers, and on election morning telephoned Dr. Troutman that he would be in after the certificate. Dr. Troutman was busy that day and directed the constable to look on his desk, where he would lay the certificate, as he would likely not be in the office.

Dr. Troutman then placed the certificate on the desk and weighted it down with a paper weight. Shelton arrived soon after and found no certificate. He caught Dr. Troutman over the phone and informed him of the fact and the physician advised him to make affidavit and secure another as some one had evidently taken the certificate. The constable went to the county clerk and made the proper affidavit that his certificate had been lost and got another.

He voted and had almost forgotten about it when yesterday, while walking around his house, he noticed a pink piece of paper protruding from under the house. He picked it out of the crack where it had been placed, and discovered his registration certificate.

Whoever got the certificate evidently didn't want the owner to vote or probably thought he would see the certificate sticking out from under the house. If it was done for a joke the constable did not relish it, as it came near causing him to lose his vote.

BIG SALE IN SEATS.

The first big rush of the present season for theater seats took place this morning at 9 o'clock when the box office at The Kentucky opened for the sale of seats to Viola Allen. There was a long line that it took a couple of hours to accommodate. When all had tickets it was found that only about ten seats were left in the balcony, and there was almost as good sale down stairs. On account of the unusual excellence of the attraction the rates are higher, but the rush indicates that Miss Allen will play to a packed house Monday night. There are plenty of good seats left downstairs, however. This will be Miss Allen's second appearance in Paducah. The first was in April, 1902, when she appeared "In the Palace of the King."

"The next day when I appeared at the postoffice an opening was made for me by those waiting, and every man took off his hat. I have ever since been a terror to all the men and the admiration of all the women. My wife and her father are the only two persons who know the secret, and the former has so long seen me treated like a brave and desperate man that she has at last come to believe that I am one. But this may be on account of the many brave and desperate heroes I have drawn in my stories. My friends say that no one but a daveless could ever depict such remarkable coolness and courage.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Copyright, 1901, by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

"Do you expect to take the king's highway with Jack Mount, the highwayman?" asked Mr. Duncan. But I refused to be drawn out, and finally he went away with his curiosity on tenterhooks and none the wiser.

When Waxall had shown me and removed the powder from my hair I gathered up my ammunition and provisions and hastened back to the house. The place was dark save for a light in the library. I felt my way up the stairs and into my chamber, where I first filled bullet pouch and powderhorn. Then rolled the spare ammunition and provisions into my pack and buckled the load tightly.

Now, rapidly undressing, I donned a new hunting shirt and leggings, fast making sure that the fringe had not been weakened by use, to leave me without cords should I need them. Then I slipped on my slippers, slipped on my hunting knife into the chamois pockets and then took my rifle from the corner and unwrapped the deer hide case.

Three I tested the flint, pouring a little powder into the pan, and thrice the pan flashed, and the ball of vapor shot up to the ceiling. So all was ready. I lingered only to buckle my money belt under my shirt, pouch a dozen new flints and a case of wadding, then loaded my pack to my shoulders, strapped it on the hips, drew out the candle and stole into the hallway, trailing my rifle.

I went softly through the lower hall, through the card room and tapped at the library door. It was opened without a sound.

Sir William rose as though his back. Instead of mine, rose the burden, and together, without a word, we passed through the dark house and out to the porch. Dawn silvered the east, but the moon in its first quarter lay about in the western clouds, and a few stars looked down through a sky veiled with frosty fleeces. Then I left him.

The streets of Johnston were dark save for the mere lanterns of the watchmen, but there seemed to be many people abroad, most of them noisy and quarrelsome. Once, as I passed a tavern, many people began to rush hither and thither. A little peddler got under my feet and fell sprawling and squealing till I picked him up and set him on his legs. He was a small, bearded man, Karl Schmidt, who came peddling often to our servants, but in his terror he did not know me, and he fled madly into the tavern, with a soldier after him, yelling he'd have one retel on him even though it were a Jewish one.

Truly, if in our village this question of tuppence worth of tea drove men mad, what wonder Sir William and Governor Tryon should frown and shake their heads over a pinch of snuff?

CHAPTER VI.

MY first three weeks in the woods were weeks of heaven. I ate and drank and slept in the dim wood stillness undisturbed. I waked when my guide, the sun, flamed through the forest, and I followed in his lead, resting when he hung circling in the noonday heavens, following again when he resumed the sky trail toward the west, seeking my couch when he lay down below the world's blue edge to fold him in the blanket of the night.

I had not met a soul on the trail, nor had I found any fresh signs save once, and that was the print of a white man's moccasins on the edge of a sandy strip near the headwaters of the Ohio, which is called the Allegheny, north of Fort Pitt.

This footmark disturbed me, although it was three days old and pointing north. But that signified nothing, for the man who made it had come in a canoe, yet I could find no sign that a canoe had been beached there nor, indeed, any further marks of moccasins.

and, I made moderate haste to get under cover, as I am timid about things I cannot account for.

As I slunk away from that footmark in the sand willows I found myself priming my rifle and looking behind me with all the horror of a Robinson Crusoe, though I had miles of country to avoid the unknown man withal.

Early that morning, having crossed, as nearly as I could make out, the boundary between our province of New York and the province of Pennsylvania, I had approached somewhat nearer than I meant to the carrying place on the Allegheny which lies directly in the Fort Pitt trail.

Now, at midday, the sun beating the forest, I found my pack very heavy and my shirt wet with exertion, but I dared not halt until I had eluded around that carrying place.

It was only when at last above the trees in the east I perceived the blue peak of a mountain that I knew I was safe enough, for the peak in the east belonged to the Allegheny range, and I had stored a fine circle without losing a mile.

However, I jogged on along a run-way made hard by the hoofs of countless deer herds until I came to a thread of water curving through the moss like a sword blade on green velvet.

Now, as I sat there a sudden instinct arose in me that I had been followed—my, not so sudden, either, for the vague idea had been slowly taking shape since I had seen that sign in the river bed among the willows.

I had absolutely no reason for believing this; the footprint was three days old, and it pointed north. Yet at the mere thought the skin on my neck began to tingle and my nose gave little twitches. Then, moved by no impulse of my own, I averted, I lifted my pack and passed swiftly along the little brook toward the main trail. Presently, through the willows to the right, I caught a glimpse of a shallow stream rushing noiselessly over a sand bottom, and on the other side of the stream I saw a notched tree, the Fort Pitt trail.

Now I deliberately made a swing of plain foot tracks along the sandy stream, pointing toward the shallowest spot. Here I forced and made more tracks to the west, entering the Fort Pitt trail. I ran down this trail till I came to a briar, and on the thorns of a spray which crossed the broad, hard trail I left a few strings from an fringed hunting shirt. Then I began to walk backward till I reached the spot where I had entered the trail from the sandy stream. I backed down this bank and forced the shallows; then, instead of coming out on the sand, I waded upstream to my little thread of a brook, and up that brook till I found a great log choking it, and behind this log I squatted, panting and astonished at my own performance.

Yet even now I could not find reason to blush at my timid precautions, for that feeling of being followed still haunted me. It was neither a coward's panic nor a cool man's alarm; it was something that drove me to cover my tracks.

The sun had spanned an hour's length on the blue dim of the sky, yet nothing moved in the woods. Still, strangely, I felt no impudence, no desire to elude myself for good time lost in groundless watchfulness. I sat now with my cheek on the cool, moist log, my rifle in my lap, watching the trees along the Fort Pitt trail. And as I watched I saw a man come out on the sandy bank of the stream and kneel down where my tracks crossed to the water's edge.

The man was Walter Butler. I knew him, though God alone knows how I could, for he wore the shirt of a Mohawk and banded leggings to the hips and at that distance might have been an Indian. He wore a rifle, and there was a hatchet in his hand, and on his head he wore a round cap of moleskin, under which his black, coarse hair, freed from the cue, fell to his chin.

He crouched there, examining my tracks with closest attention for full a minute, then rose gracefully and followed, tracing them up to the Fort Pitt trail.

Here I saw two other men come swiftly through the trees to meet him, but, though they gesticulated violently and pointed down the stream, they spoke too low for me to hear a single whisper.

Suddenly, to my horror, a canoe shot across my line of sight and stopped suddenly, held by the setting pole in midstream. It contained a white man, who leaned on the setting pole, silently awaiting the result of the conference on the bank above.

The conference ended abruptly. I saw two of the men start south toward Fort Pitt, while Butler came lastly down to the water's edge and waded out to the canoe.

He boarded the frail craft from the bank, striding it skillfully and working his way to his place. Then the two setting poles dashed in the sunbeam, and the canoe shot out of sight.

How Butler had learned of my mission, whether he had actually learned of it or only suspected it from my dis-

Pretty Children

"We have three children. Before the birth of the last one my wife used four bottles of MOTHER'S FRIEND. If you had the pictures of our children, you could see at a glance that the last one is healthiest, prettiest and finest-looking of them all. My wife thinks Mother's Friend is the greatest and grandest remedy in the world for expectant mothers."

Written by a Kentucky Attorney-at-Law.

MOTHER'S FRIEND prevents nine-tenths of the suffering incident to childbirth. The coming mother's disposition and temper remain unruffled throughout the ordeal, because this relaxing, pacifying, pleasant remedy relieves the usual distress. A good-natured mother is pretty sure to have a good-natured child. The patient is kept in a strong, healthy condition, which the child also inherits. Mother's Friend takes a wife through the crisis quickly and almost painlessly. It assists in her rapid recovery, and wards off the dangers that so often follow delivery.

appearance, concerned me little. These things were certain: He was Lord Duncan's emissary, as I was the emissary of Sir William. He was bound for Governor's camp, as was I, and he intended to intercept me and kill me if that meant the winning of the race. Aye, he meant to kill me anyhow, for how could he ever again appear in Johnston if I lived to bear witness to his treachery?

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of misdeeds. It only makes them more mischievous. If it did there would be few children at all. There is a constitutional cure for this. Mrs. M. Sumner, Box 202, Suite 100, Ind., will send her home treatise to a mother. She asks and recommends that you write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child. The chances are it can't help it.

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good but I have found the right thing at last. My face was full of pimples and black heads. After taking Cascarets they all left and my complexion is now clear and beautiful. I feel like a new woman. Write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child. The chances are it can't help it."

MANY THOUSANDS TO BE PAID OUT

City Treasury to be Hit Hard Next Week.

Finance Committee Met Last Night—Individual Street Sweepers Talked Over.

SOME OTHER CITY NOTES

It is very likely that in a short time an ordinance will be presented in the council providing for two street sweepers such as they have in the city, whose duty it will be to be attired in simple uniform and continually go up and down the paved streets and with a wire broom keep them clean.

Everybody, especially the merchants, and those who have business down town, in disgusted with the filthy condition of the brick streets. They are never cleaned properly at the start, and in a few hours are again filthy, covered with mud and puddles of water, and ruinous to the skirt of any lady who allows it to drag as she crosses a street.

It is reported that an effort will be made when the new council goes into office to pass such an ordinance, if it is not done before, which will insure the brick streets being kept clean all the time.

Another ordinance that will be introduced will be a "cow ordinance." There has always been objection to a cow ordinance, but it was selfish opposition based on the desire of cow owners to turn their cows loose to roam the streets and invade people's yards. It is rapidly becoming evident that the demand for a cow law is imperative, and to fail to pass it will leave Paducah the laughing stock of all strangers.

On account of its location few people get to see the new city hospital at the extremity of North Fourth street unless they make a special trip for the purpose, but work is progressing well, and Contractor Wm. Karnes expects to have the building complete and turned over to the city by the last of the month. The plasterers are now at work and no pains will be spared to finish the building and have it ready.

A conference with the medical men will likely be held next week some time to ascertain what is to be done about furnishing the operating room. The move to do away with the office of city physician as it stands at present and allow the local members of the medical profession to do the hospital work proper free of cost to the city, and have the outside charity work done by two members of the medical society, one on each side of town, for $150 a year each, or a total cost of $300 a year for what is now being paid for the city physician's services, seems to be meeting with universal favor. The doctors are very much in earnest and say they are willing to do the work an outlined above both to help the city out, and for the sake of humanity.

Last night the finance committee met at the city hall and audited and approved accounts against the city.

This meeting was an important one and the matter of paying out very large sums was considered. The advancements to contractors doing street work will have to be allowed, but it will not be known how much this will amount to before the certificates come in. Another, and possibly the biggest, payment to make, is the payment of the portion of December taxes to the schools. This, with the regular bills against the city, will amount high into the thousands.

Last month there were three council meetings and a total of $17,782.47 and has several thousand dollars more to be added for today's collecting, and notwithstanding the fact that the St. Louis fair took a great deal of money away from the city, the property owners seem to have retained enough to pay their taxes and the collections for November having exceeded those of the same month in 1903 several thousand dollars.

Treasurer John Dorian has collected since December 1st, a total of $17,782.47 and has several thousand dollars more to be added for today's collecting, and notwithstanding the fact that the St. Louis fair took a great deal of money away from the city, the property owners seem to have retained enough to pay their taxes and the collections for November having exceeded those of the same month in 1903 several thousand dollars.
